

PRESIDENT GIVES STRIKING R. R. MEN UNTIL 4 P. M. TODAY TO ACCEPT HIS BACK-TO-WORK ULTIMATUM OR HAVE ARMED TROOPS TAKE OVER THE RAIL SYSTEMS

Truman To Go Before Joint Session of Congress at Deadline to Ask for Sweeping Powers to Curb Future Strikes That Threaten Break-Down of Nation's Economy—Chiefs of Two Operating Brotherhoods Silent as Army is Mobilized for Zero Hour.

By Robert G. Nixon
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 25—President Truman gave 250,000 striking railroad men until 4 P. M., E. S. T., today to accept his stern back-to-work ultimatum or have armed troops take over operation of the nation's paralyzed rail system.

Mr. Truman will go before a joint session of Congress at the ultimatum deadline to ask for sweeping powers to curb future strikes that threaten break-down of the nation's economy.

Chiefs of the two operating Brotherhoods sat silent without any comment on Mr. Truman's militant move as the Army was mobilized for the zero hour.

Federal mediators were expected to call further conferences between the carriers and the workers during the day in a last-minute effort to reach a settlement before the Army is given its "marching orders."

Crimly, the President told the striking Railroad workers in his radio address to the nation:

"This strike is a strike against your Government.
... The railroads must resume operations."

Mr. Truman prepared to go before the Congress not only to settle the railroad strike but to deal with any future national strikes that might threaten paralysis of the country's economy.

He gave hopes of early settlement of the nation-wide bituminous coal strike. But, at the same time, he had the Navy and Marine Corps standing by to operate the mines should mediation fail.

On Capitol Hill, the law makers anticipated that the President would ask Congress to outlaw by specific act any "strike against the Government."

Mr. Truman was also expected to ask legislation providing for criminal penalties for interference with the operation of properties, such as railroads or mines, which have been seized by the Government.

Congress was in an angry mood and appeared ready to give the President whatever powers he might ask.

Shortly after Mr. Truman delivered his bristling "report to the people," the Senate swiftly acted to pave the way for speedy action on pending anti-strike legislation.

The Senate, by unanimous consent, agreed to limit debate to 30 minutes on the Case anti-strike bill, and to 30 minutes on each amendment.

Majority Leader Barkley had striven ceaselessly and unsuccessfully for days to obtain such an agreement.

Late in the night, the upper body recessed until noon today after agreeing to a vote at 1 p. m. on the Hall Amendment requiring a 60-day "cooling off" period in advance of strikes or lockouts, and a vote at 5 p. m. on a motion to shut off debate by "gag" rule.

Attorney-General Tom Clark labored with his staff through the night preparing legal steps for enforcement of Presidential steps to cope with the situation.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, was back in Washington after a plane flight from his vacation spot near Savannah, Ga., ready for the President's order to the Army to take over and operate the railroads.

Mr. Truman served this ultimatum:

"The railroads must resume operation. In view of the extraordinary emergency which exists, as President of the United States, I call upon the men who are now out on strike to return to their jobs and to operate our railroads.

"To each man now out on strike I say that the duty to your country goes beyond any desire for personal gain.

"If sufficient workers to operate the trains have not returned by 4 p. m., e. s. t., tomorrow, as head of your Government I have no alternative but to operate the trains by using every means within my power.

"I shall call upon the Army to assist the Office of Defense Transportation in operating the trains and I shall ask our armed forces to furnish protection to every man who heads the call of his country in this hour of need."

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes yesterday offered a compromise whereby the Brotherhoods would receive an 18½ cent an hour increase plus changes in working rules previously recommended by the President's fact-finding board. Additional rules were to be arbitrated.

Whitney and Johnson refused this new offer.

Arrest in Md. Solves A WaWa Diner Hold-Up Case

Oliver Moffet, 19, of Kansas City, Mo., who has been arrested by Maryland State Police at Waterloo, Md., is said to have a long criminal record, and is also charged with a hold-up at the WaWa Diner Riegelsville on May 16th.

Wanted by police in numerous cities, Moffet, described as one of the cleverest crooks in recent years, will very likely be brought to Bucks county first to stand trial for the Riegelsville diner job.

A stolen wrist watch, the alert police work on the part of Troopers John Mitchell, of the local sub-station of State Police and Corporal Peter Greblunas of the Bethlehem sub-station and modern teletype communication led to Moffet's downfall after a speedy and hazardous criminal career.

The WaWa Diner's night man, Milton Frutchey, was held up on the morning of May 16, by two bandits, at which time $93 in cash was taken from the cash register. At the same time the bandits stole a wrist watch belonging to Frutchey. What the bandits failed to do was to get rid of the watch. They also stole about 500 pennies that were in a bag, and failed to get rid of them.

State Police of the Doylestown sub-station, a short time after the robbery was reported by the Riegelsville diner sent out a teletype message to police departments in various cities stating that a wrist watch and about 500 pennies had been stolen in the Riegelsville hold-up.

This week, the Doylestown sub-station, in the course of the investigation, noticed a teletype message sent out of Waterloo, Md., in which it was stated that Maryland State Police had taken Oliver Moffet into custody; that in his possession they had found a wrist watch and 427 pennies in a bag; that they were holding him if any other police department wanted him.

The local sub-station immediately wired the Maryland State Police for further details and informed them that a bandit with a wrist watch and pennies was wanted.

Moffet was further questioned by Maryland State Police and Doylestown sub-station received a complete teletype confession from Moffet, which included the Riegelsville hold-up. His accomplice on the Riegelsville and other jobs, is still at large.

NAMED BURGESS OF DOYLESTOWN BOROUGH

Captain George C. Butler To Succeed Wilbur H. Van Dine, Esq.

NAME NEW POLICE

DOYLESTOWN, May 24—Captain George C. Butler, prominent veteran of World War I, has been named Burgess of this borough to succeed Wilbur H. Van Dine, Esq., who resigned due to the press of business. The appointment of Captain Butler met with the unanimous approval of Borough Council.

The approval of the report of the police committee of the selection of Veryl Clinton Hoyt, 27, as a new member of the Doylestown police force, was also recorded. Hoyt was placed on the force for a probationary period at a starting salary of $37.50 per week.

Two other applicants for the job of policeman were considered by the police committee.

The appointment of another part-time police officer was also authorized after Chief of Police Felix R. Gowan had asked for assistance because of the great increase in traffic through Doylestown. A selection will probably be made from the local fire police. The extra part-time officer will work Friday and Saturday nights and may help out on certain Sunday assignments.

The new part-time officer will work approximately 15 hours per week and will receive 90 cents an hour. Council at first approved the proposal of adding a fifth full-time officer to the force, but after considering all existing conditions, it was deemed best to appoint a part-time officer for the present.

The police committee's recommendation of advertising for the purchase of a new police car was also unanimously approved. This item was taken care of in the annual budget.

A smoke ordinance was passed in the first reading that Council members hope will control and regulate any local smoke nuisances. The ordinance is similar to the one in operation at Norristown.

Orders Negotiations with R. R. Brotherhoods Terminated

Washington—President Truman today ordered negotiations with the two striking railroad brotherhoods abruptly terminated.

The President immediately ordered Labor Mediator John R. Steelman to meet with the 18 non-striking railroad brotherhoods to effect a new agreement between those unions and railroad management.

The White House announced that any further efforts to settle the railroad strike with the heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was useless.

The announcement said that the White House would proceed with efforts to bring the carriers and the 18 non-striking brotherhoods together in a full agreement.

The President stated through Secretary Charles G. Ross that those non-striking unions should not suffer through the failure of the two other brotherhoods to reach an agreement on their wage and rules regulations.

This conference was to begin within a few minutes with Steelman as the negotiator at the Statler Hotel in Washington where they have been meeting for the past two days.

The President's statement, terminating all negotiations with the heads of the two striking brotherhoods, said:

"By direction of the President government efforts to mediate the dispute between the carriers on one hand and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, on the other hand, have been discontinued.

"Dr. Steelman has called a meeting between representatives of the carriers and the 18 other unions at the Statler Hotel.

"The meeting will begin this morning at 11 o'clock.

"The purpose is to complete an agreement between these unions and the carriers in keeping with the President's recommendations.

"It should be understood that the carriers accepted the President's recommendation on the understanding that it would be accepted by all unions to accept the compromise proposal."

"These 18 unions should not be penalized for the failure of the two of the 29 unions."

Grand Jury Approves Improvement Plans

DOYLESTOWN, May 25—The Grand Jury of Bucks County, after inspecting the county buildings, recommended that improvements suggested by previous grand juries, some of which are under way, be carried out as soon as possible, if not already under way.

The report, signed by Charles T. Edgerton, Langhorne chemist, as foreman, and Erna M. Doane, Quakertown, secretary, shows that 62 bills of indictment were before the jury, 59 returned as true bills and 3 were ignored.

In connection with the annual report of the Bucks County Prison the Grand Jury approved the purchase of a tract of land in Doylestown (adjacent to the prison) for county purposes as recommended by the County Commissioners.

"We found the Bucks County Prison clean and sanitary," the report sets forth. "We visited the County Home and found it clean and sanitary, but recommend the installation of an elevator and endorse the other suggestions made by previous grand juries—just as soon as possible."

A sun porch added to the women's building at the County Home was also recommended, and that improvement be made as soon as convenient insofar as cooking utensils are concerned. A more balanced diet for the inmates of the County Home was recommended.

The Grand Jury recommended that the new detention home for the children of Bucks county be erected on the ground already proposed for that use, when materials and labor are available, and according to the recommendation of the County Commissioners. The jury also recommended that the men's building should receive a coat of outside paint; that the dairy barn be given a coat of whitewash grey, and that the water tower be given a coat of aluminum paint.

The Grand Jury found the Court House "still very much overcrowded."

It was also recommended that the main court room be decorated in order to "furnish better light and a more cheerful atmosphere." It was suggested that the Court House grounds be landscaped for better appearance whenever practical.

The Educational Building was reported in "good condition," but with insufficient space for the educational offices and those of the County Farm Agent.

DR. MARY WINDUS SPEAKS TO CLUB MEMBERS LOCALLY

Considers "Socialized Medicine" in Talk to The Travel Club

"LEGISLATION DAY"

Mrs. D. W. Sheerer, Jr., Presides; Tea and Music Are Enjoyed

Dr. Mary Lehman Windus addressed members of The Travel Club yesterday afternoon on the subject of "Socialized Medicine." The local physician was presented to the members in the club home by Mrs. David W. Sheerer, Jr., president of the club, on what is termed by the club as "legislation day."

At the outset, "Dr. Mary," as she is known to many, declared "socialized medicine" is "a very inclusive term." "In the broad sense anything is socialized that is supported by people in groups. The practice of medicine can be socialized in many ways," she added as she cited the following examples: 1. State institutions for tuberculosis and insane patients; 2. state and federally supported well baby clinics; 3. venereal disease and tuberculosis clinics; 4. health insurance (whether voluntary or compulsory).

The speaker mentioned that "Voluntary plans are divorced from any tie-up with the government, with the well in the group helping to pay expenses of the sick of the same group. In the compulsory plan the costs are cared for by some form of taxation."

Continuing, Dr. Mary said: "We must look with sympathy upon the objectives which the planners hope to obtain." She mentioned that advances in medical science mean improvement in quality and increase of cost of care, adding that "the cost of serious illness oftentimes works serious hardships." The opinion of the speaker was that "the demands for socialized medicine must and will be satisfied. What we should study is what means will produce the results we want." Here the physician advised against rushing into "any drastic, irrevocable plan."

The speaker, after reminding that "government sponsors compulsory socialized medicine, and organized medicine sponsors voluntary socialized medicine," considered bills now before Congress. One of these plans, Senate Bill 1606, calls for complete medical care for 85 per cent or more of the population, those omitted being federal and state employees, railroad groups, pupils over 18, indigents, those under institutional care, etc. The collection of funds suggested under this plan is on a social security basis, probably with a percentage taken from the pay envelope, the tax being on wage earners and matched by the employer, with additional costs taken from general revenues.

Then, presuming that such a bill has become law, Dr. Mary applied it to Bristol, with population of 12,000, and estimate of 12 physicians, with possibly 1500 patients allotted to each of the supposed eight following the plan. The many questions and ramifications resulting were gone into—such as Mrs. A., included in the plan, but whose physician has not had the desire to be placed on the panel; Mrs. B., who has applied too late to be included in her own physician's group.

"Theoretically a physician can practice part time for the government, and part time independently," commented the speaker, who went on to cite operation of such a bill in England, with appalling complexities. Dr. Mary mentioned that there were 3300 rules and regulations in pre-war Germany that a doctor must abide by.

The speaker also said in part: "Bureaucratic control of medical practice we fear will upset medical practice and result in inferior care. . . . Compulsory medical insurance deteriorates the quality of service and those who give the service. This is an intangible thing, but when the government steps in such a manner as to regiment the doctors and regiment the patients, the interest taken by the doctor is different."

Mulligan-Weik Nuptials Solemnized at St. Mark's

A spring wedding which interested many here today was solemnized this morning at a nuptial mass in St. Mark's R. C. Church at the hour of 10, when Miss Catherine Marie Weik, daughter of Bristol School Director and Mrs. Charles S. Weik, of 153 Otter street, was wed to Mr. Lawrence M. Mulligan, son of Mr. Ellen Mulligan, 162 Buckley street.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Miss Weik took the marriage vows with the Rev. Fr. Paul Baird officiating. Vocalists for the ceremony were Mrs. Carl Winch, Jackson street, and Mr. John Artim, of Farragut avenue. Their accompanist was Miss Katherine Keating, Linden street, who also played the wedding marches.

Four young women attended the bride, and four young men served the groom. These were: Mrs. Joseph Fisher, Landreth Manor, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Mrs. John T. Derr, Philadelphia, Mrs. Thomas Priory, Buckley street, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Leonard Bassett, Bath street, bridesmaids; Mr. John C. Mulligan, Monroe street, brother of the groom, best man; and Messrs. Thomas Priory, Joseph A. Fisher, and Charles Weik, Jr., the latter a brother of the bride, as ushers.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 125 at Bowen's Restaurant.

The attractive bridal gown was fashioned of white marquisette, it having a peplum and shoulder ruffle of white eyelet material. The gown was entrain, and the long sleeves were tapered over her hands. To an orange blossom head-dress a finger-tip veil of net was attached. Slippers were of white satin, and she carried an arm bouquet of gardenias.

The matron of honor wore a gown of pale pink and the bridesmaids wore white. These had bodices of raw silk, featuring high neck-lines and tiny cap sleeves. They were wide-belted models, belts being of raw silk studded with silver. Skirts, which were floor-length, were of marquisette. The attendants wore slippers of silver, and head-dress for each was composed of silver leaves. The matron of honor carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies and pink stock; and the bridesmaids' bouquets were composed of pale yellow shasta daisies.

Mrs. Weik, mother of the bride, was attired for the ceremony in a dress of pale blue, with black accessories; while Mrs. Mulligan, mother of the groom, wore a pale blue dress, and navy blue accessories. The two wore gardenia corsages.

Mr. Mulligan and bride plan a two weeks' motor trip to the middle west. The bride's travelling costume will consist of a two-piece pink suit, brown straw hat and brown accessories. She will wear a lavender orchid. The newlyweds will reside in an apartment at 306 Otter street.

The former Miss Weik is a graduate of St. Mark's Commercial School, and has been employed by the Bristol Trust Company. Mr. Mulligan, a graduate of Northeast Catholic high school, Philadelphia, is employed at the Bristol post-office. He served in the U. S. Army Infantry during World War II, and for a time was in the European Theatre of Operations.

EDGELY BATTLES HARRIMAN TO TIE; GAME ENDS AT 3-3

Ralph Linck and "Jimmy" Cooper Do the Twirling For the Teams

EDGELY HAD CHANCE

Had Winning Run on Base in Last Frame But Could not Score

EDGELY, May 25—Edgely A. C. and Harriman ended in a 3-3 deadlock last evening on the Edgely diamond in a Bristol Suburban League contest.

Southpaw Ralph Linck twirled for Edgely while "Jimmy" Cooper tossed them up for Harriman. Cooper gave up six hits while Linck gave seven to the Harriman batsmen.

Edgely had the winning run on base in the final frame but could not push it over. After Leinheiser struck out, Palowicz drew a walk. Leigh batted for Fahy and also struck out. Linck singled to score Palowicz. F. Purcell was hit with a pitched ball but J. Dick fled out to end the contest.

Linck had two out of three to lead the Edgely batters while "Sid" Purcell had a double and single in three trips to the plate to head the Harriman team.
